It's Dogs Over People 6-1

Elsewhere in this publication is a report on the activities of the San Diego Sheriff's helicopter service and two of the six medivac operations since the helicopter's inception happened during the 30 day or so period covered by the report.

Lt. Robert Morse, director of the heli operations, told of a page-and-a-half letter sent by a Lemon Grove resident when the helicopter, during a routine patrol, attempted to locate a runaway pet dog. The dog was not found but the resident was grateful — and said so.

Interestingly enough, said Lt. Morse in reply to our question, none of the six cases involving removing injured or ailing persons evoked a word of appreciation.

In some of the latter cases the pilot endangered his own life due to hazardous landing conditions.

Using these statistics one could say people like dogs better than they like people.

OEO's End Won't Lessen Costs It Will Only Transpose Them

The national Office of Economic Opportunity is being closed by orders of President Nixon and that has set off a reaction among some of the liberal representatives.

OEO was many thing to many people and most of its present functions will continue — but on a different or substantially reduced basis, it is believed.

OEO was started during the Johnson administration and the thrust was to attack poverty in these United States. And for a while it did. A notable local effort was the "head start" program in the Lemon Grove School District, among others. It set up classrooms for pre-school minority and poverty-ridden youngsters so that they would not have to play catch-up when they entered school. It also gave the mother a chance to work using "head start" as a baby-sitter. It also gave pre-school youngsters a "head start" nutritionally by providing wholesome meals.

If any one group wrecked OEO it was the lawyers of the legal services program, according to Howard J. Phillips, charged by the White House with dissolving OEO.

Phillips charged that they (legal service lawyers) had made it a vehicle for "achieving political ends."

Phillips is quoted as saying that "Many of the lawyers in legal services (departments of OEO) think it's their job to change laws and social values. Some got involved in draft counseling. Some have distributed radical literature in prisons.

"I want them out of the business of organizing welfare rights workers chapters, and farm worker unions, and rent strikes, and organizing the poor. The whole thrust had become that of civil liberties rather than poverty," he said.

He also cited some undesirable side effects that had sprung up as a result of OEO's misdirection. Challenges to established authority, promotion of the welfare ethic, forced busing, glorification of dissent, politicization of social institutions, were among those listed.

"OEO has not only failed to help the poor but has done positive harm," Phillips said. "It defended the wrong values. It is based on the wrong notion that the poor should be treated as a class apart. That's a Marxist notion."

Phillips, 32, is a Harvard graduate. He is founder of the conservative Young Americans for Freedom (YAF). Two of his assistants are Randal Teague, former executive director of YAF, and Alan McKay, former YAF national chairman.

Locally, the OEO philosophy has worked to the disadvantage of at least one black businessman. He was seeking a subcontractor for a legitimate business venture which had all the elements of success. He was prepared to pay one fourth of the cost with the order and the rest upon completion—about $5,000 in all. Sub-contractors rejected doing his work and two told us privately why they were fearful. "If he thinks up any complaint at all OEO lawyers will have us in court. We will have to give up because of the time and money it takes," they said.

In a separate instance a local resident said, also privately, that he didn't intend to take his collision with a minority citizen to court, although he had been hit from the rear at an intersection. "I think I would lose because he would have a free lawyer. I might even have to pay his damages. Not because he is innocent, but because he is a member of a minority race."

Or as Phillips said earlier about the "class apart" concept.

Other U.S. programs that will be cut back include the Hill Burton Hospital Construction Act and the Impacted School Aid. President Nixon claims the nation's oversupply of hospital beds has contributed to the inflation in medical costs. He says national occupancy rate is only 74%.

"Impact" is a grant made to schools for youngsters whose parents work or live on federal property. Cut from the budget is that group which works on but does not live on federal property. That cut will affect local school districts. In the Lemon Grove School District the cut will be $115,000. This will amount to 25-30 cents on the local tax bill, according to Dr. Robert Sutton, district superintendent.

Some of the programs are being supplanted by the President's proposed "revenue sharing" program. It may be that the "Impact" program is one of these.

Revenue sharing may dissolve many of the old problems but will create about as many new ones — only different.

Women Participation In Scouting Enlarged

A wider interpretation for the participation of women in the Boy Scouts of America locally has been announced by William C. Lochmoeller, Membership Chairman of the San Diego County Council.

Women may now serve as members and asociate members of local councils and district committees. They may also be named as institutional representatives, Exploring Advisors and Skippers, members of the College Scouter Reserve, and as Cub Scouting roundtable commissioners.

"In fact," said Lochmoeller, "I am proud to say that I now have for the first time a lady Scouter on my committee." "She is Pat Silveira of 7808 Prairie Mound way, San Diego, who heads the membership committee of Aequus District, one of the seven districts of the council." "To my knowledge," continued Lochmoeller, "this is the first time

Several File For School Board Votes

Several candidates in the La Mesa-Spring Valley and Grossmont College districts have filed for the upcoming board of education elections.

Filing deadline for the elections, which will be held April 17, is February 16.

In the La Mesa-Spring Valley district, three seats are up for election. They are currently held by Peter Doyle, John Todd and Rev. Arnue Christianson. Doyle and Todd filed, as of press time.

In the Grossmont College District, the seats now held by William Faulwetter, Paul Epler, and Karl Tuttle will be on the ballot. Ken Joerden and Sidney Weiner have filed.

SV Man Starts Cremation Firm

A Spring Valley man, Warren McKeel, is the owner and operator of the new San Diego-based business known as Dial-A-Mation, a direct cremation service.

McKeel, of 3135 South Bonita, Casa de Oro, has lived in this area for 46 years and has been employed with Greenwood Mortuary for 25 years, holding positions as assistant mortuary manager, crematory superintendent, and assistant general superintendent.

The local man, who attended Lemon Grove Grammar School and Grossmont High School, served in the Navy during World War Two. He has a wife and a daughter.

The business, McKeel said, was started after he realized "a need for low-cost service such as this".

Final Plans For Valhalla Approved

The Grossmont Union High School District Board of Trustees met Monday night and, in the face of stringent opposition, approved final plans to construct the district's ninth school, Valhalla High.

Although there were no protestors present at the meeting, the board has been criticized heavily in the past few months for its plan to construct the school through a tax levy.

Opponents to the plan have argued that the school should not be constructed with operating tax money. The board made the decision to fund it through the tax after it was decided that a bond issue would have little chance of passing.

The school was originally to be built from a 1967 bond issue, but the district used that money for other things, including partial purchase of sites for future schools.

Opponents have argued that a decreasing birth rate will not merit construction of future schools.

In light of public opinion which is not in favor of great expenditures, the board approved the plans with changes that will decrease its cost. In all, 20 changes, some of them minor, were made to reduce the cost.

The school is expected to be open for the spring, 1975, semester.

At opening ceremonies Monday, local civic leaders, including Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce President Herb Ketell, were on hand, as were Sears officials. The ribbon cutting followed a continental breakfast for Sears and civic leaders. Cosby Retirement Due After 19 Years on Board

By John Nicholson

Deadline for filing declarations of candidacy with the County Registrar of Voters for the upcoming Lemon Grove School District Board of Education election is February 16.

Three of the board's five seats will be up for election and two of the incumbents have announced their intentions to run again. They are H. Warren Buckner, who is in his 16th year on the board, and Leonard Klee, completing his fourth year as a trustee.

Bert Cosby, who is the senior member of the board with 19 years of service, announced last week that he will not be a candidate.

Cosby's retirement will mean that there will be at least one new member when the new board is seated July 1.

Candidates must be registered voters of the Lemon Grove School District and must nt be disqualified under other provisions of the California Constitution.

School district superintendent Robert Sutton indicated that a good board member would be one that has a concern for the education of Lemon Grove youngsters. He should also understand the function of the board, which is to make policies and hire administrators to execute those policies.

A consideration that candidates should have would be a time factor, Sutton said. While trustees meet for only five to seven hours per month, a great deal of time is also spent in studying district concerns, keeping up with legislation affecting education, as well as attending regional conferences and meetings.

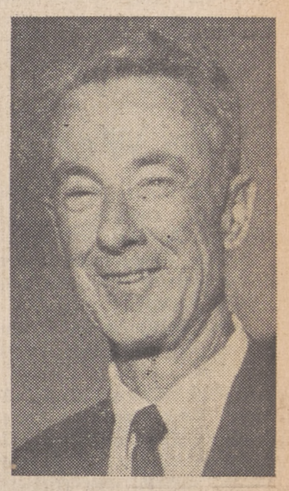

Bert Cosby, who first took his seat on the board in 1954, echoed Sutton's concerns that candidates have the interests of local students at heart.

He added that he hoped that sacrifies which board members must make of their time would not stand in the way of good candidates.

Cosby, who has watched the district grow for nearly two decades, fingered financial problems as the major concern to the school district in the years to come.

Decreasing enrollment will cause problems, he said, as will recent legislation which is expected to bring about a transition in school finance.

He cited good rapport with the district administrators, teachers and parents as one of the things that made his stay on the board an enjoyable one. He also added that the job was made easier by two fine administrators in Byron Netzley and Sutton.

Bert Cosby

H. Warren Buckner, who joined the district in 1957, expressed his regret that Cosby would be retiring, adding that they had been close for many years.

Buckner noted that he could see no major problems in a new board with at least one new member, and that the board has functioned well during the past two years with two new members in Jim Dorman and Henry Reinecke.

Both Buckner and Leonard Klee, who is serving as president of the board this year, were expected to file their declarations of candidacy this week.

William H. Talbot, 44, of 6541 Lemorand, San Diego, was expected to file papers this week. Talbot, who resides in San Diego but is within the school district boundaries, is a member of the citizen's advisory committee and Vista La Mesa School and is president of the Vista La Mesa PTA.

Businessmen Join in Race For High School Board

Two area businessmen officially announced their candidacy this week for election to the Grossmont Union High School Board of Trustees.

Joe Drew

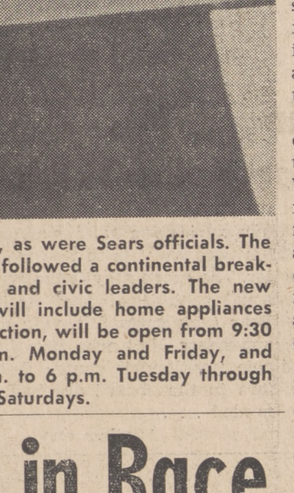

Joe Drew, 33, a partner in Drew Ford and director of Rock Gas Co. said he decided to seek the post because of "mistakes" of the board and of the superintendent, Dr. Austin Sellery.

William G. Funke, 47, vice president of American Distilling Co. and president of its subsidiary Corporate Exchange Co., and operator of International Contract Furnishers, Inc. said his decision was based on the need for "stablizing" the "once exemplary" high school system. He noted that much of the district's faculty had become disenchanted with the present administration's lack of responsiveness to the parent's desire for school discipline and more attention to community standards.

The election is scheduled for April 17 throughout the Grossmont High School District. Three vacancies will exist. Present trustees whose terms expire this year are Palmer Svalstad, of Lemon Grove; Joe Famme, of El Cajon, and Ken Overstreet, of La Mesa. Of the three, only Overstreet is seeking re-election. Svalstad, a contractor, has served on the board for 19 years. His first activity as a retiree is to visit the Holy Lands in March. Famme, who has served four years, is re-dedicating his energy to his consulting business. Overstreet is executive director for Campus Life organizations. He is seeking re-election to give continuity to programs already under commitment, he said.

In addition to Drew and Funke, three other residents of the district have taken out papers for candidacy. They are Howard Harris, Elizabeth Pengelley, and Don Hunsaker, II.

Both Drew and Funke are critical of the Valhalla high school project. Both said the district had broken trust with those who support school finance elections. Specifically, the complaint has to do with the board using operating funds to build the 9th high school.

W. G. Funke

Drew said he is concerned about the district's fiscal responsibility, credibility, overall educational direction to-

Robber Takes $42 From LG Photo Booth

The Fotomat drive-through photo booth at 7289 Broadway, Lemon Grove, was the victim of an armed robbery last week in which a suspect armed with a knife escaped with about $42 in cash.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect approached the booth on foot at the south window, displayed a 10-inch knife and told the clerk to "gimme all your money."

After the clerk filled a brown paper bag with the money, the suspect told her to "give them a false description — I need the bread". He walked away from the booth eastbound on Broadway.

The suspect was described as about 22 years of age, standing 5-10 and was thin. He has light blue eyes and short hair, wearing a dark colored watch cap, blue jeans, and a multi-colored jacket with a lot of blue and green color. He has a 3/4-inch scar below and to the right of his right nostril.

Plans Underway For Miss S.V. Beauty Pageant

Plans are now getting underway for the 1973 Miss Spring Valley Pageant which will be held at Spring Valley Jr. High School March 21 at 7:30 p.m.

The winner of the local contest will compete in the Fairest of the Fair Pageant which will determine who will reign over the 1973 Southern California Exposition this summer.

Donn Tarr, chairman of the event, said that the affair, the seventh annual for the sponsoring Spring Valley Rotary Club, gives a boost to the Spring Valley area and its youth and raises money for the Club's scholarship fund.

Miss Spring Valley will receive a crown which she can wear all year and she will reign over many activities in the area during that time. She will also receive a scholarship for post high school education or training.

Last year's winner, Miss Francyne Slagle, is honorary chairman of the pageant this year, and will assit Don Tarr by soliciting contestants and interviewing.

Women's Club Meeting Scheduled Wednesday

The Spring Valley Woman's Club will meet February 14 at 1 p.m. at Memory Lane Center in Spring Valley, according to Mrs. William Fitzpatrick, who, also with her committee, has scheduled a Valentine/birthday party for the meeting.

Also working on plans for the affair are Mrs. G. Lindeneau and Mrs. E. P. Myers.

The club's evening section, "Junta de la Noche" will celebrate founder's day in the clubhouse at Goodland Acres Park February 21.

Last month's meeting of the club included a presentation by Mrs. Elmer Jensen, wife of the former County Sheriff, who spoke on the rehabilitation of women penal offenders.

The club also honored winners in the recent art contest sponsored by the California Federation of Women's Clubs, district 26.

Winners from Spring Valley Junior High School, seventh grader Kimberly Singer claimed a first place. Eighth graders Suzie Bigham and Tina Jones took second place awards, while a third place went to Laura Pederson, also on eighth grader.

Mount Miguel High School winners included Bill Madigan and Ray Goins, both sophomores who took first place awards, and Roger Zimmerman, a junior, who took a third place award.

Mrs. K. W. Ferguson, a member of the club, took a second place award for her watercolor painting, marking the second year in a row that she has won an award in the contest.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

In response to "A BROKE TAXPAYER". Under the law, it has been decreed that it is the inherent "right" of everyone to own a pet. However this right carries the "responsibility" for the feading and care of that pet which simply states that one may have that which he can properly take care of. The erection of a spay clinic to perform spays, for ALL pet owners regardless of income, under the ecological banner of animal population control, is parallel to many other ludicrous social instances. How about tax funded smog devices for all automobiles?, Filet mignon for all who hunger for it?, New clothes, paid vacations, entertainment, and booze for all who feel the need to adjust socially?, How about government financed hobbies for all who desire same to be good citizens, such as boating, jewelry making, or golf?

It would appear that the cheap spay is just another step toward total support and control by government. If the low paid taxpayers money is to pay for the bank presidents spay, and we condone it, then we damn well deserve it and all that comes after. If we do not accept it, then we had better loudly and clearly inform our supervisor and support his negative vote in this matter. The cheap spay is the personal crusade of Mrs. Suzie Bear (you guessed it, wife of supervisor Jim) who has the pole position this race. Letters to the board are badly needed . . .

Another one

Dear Editor:

Many renters and owners — parents and non-parents — are unhappy with Grossmont Trustees and the school system! Many feel they are not getting their money's worth for the high taxes! When property taxes go up, rent goes up.

The tax bond money of 1967 for the 9th high school, Valhalla, was spent for other purposes, according to the trustees. Trustees raised district tax rate 27 cents per $100 assessment on property, to pay for the same school twice!

Vote No tax bonds and tax override and vote for non-incumbents April 17. Write protest: Trustees, P.O. Box 1043, La Mesa, 92041.

Dear Editor:

Colds and flu can be eliminated through adequate research. Did you know it is the nation's most costly infectious disease? Did you know the U. S. Public Health Department estimates people in the U. S. will spend $350,000,000 this year on useless cold remedies? Did you know there will be $6 to $10 million lost this year in the U. S. alone due to absenteeism from common colds?

Add to the above the misery caused by these ailments occurring in the very heart of life itself. Add to this the fact that colds are well-known as forerunners to much more serious ailments. Add to this the fact that colds and flu can leave organs such as lungs and bronchi permanently weakened. Add to this that each cold shortens life by a bit. Multiply this by the number of colds in a lifetime!

From the overwhelming need to stop this senseless waste and misery and from our investigations, the Committee to End Colds and Flu has arrived at the obvious conclusion that the funding of research against colds and flu is tremendously lacking. You can help! Write your Congressman, write President Nixon asking him to see that more money is appropriated for this badly needed national effort.

Sincerely,
Donald O. Prasser, M.D.
Chairman
Committee to End Cold and Flu

Dear Editor:

In 1967, Grossmont District voters passed a tax bond to build the 9th high school, Valhalla. Grossmont High School District Board of Trustees have spent most of the money for other "projects". If you or I had done this, we would probably be in jail.

In 1972, the trustees passed a 28½ cents tax increase, which yields about $56,000 for each penny of this increase. This was to build the same school the voters had approved in 1967! Thus the people are paying twice for a school designed in the round which is costlier to build than straight. In addition to local taxes, they will also pay state and federal matching funds!

This school will be located in the Rancho San Diego Development area which will be to the developers benefit, since municipal improvements will increase property values.

Since the birth rate is declining according to recent population statistics, I strongly urge the voters to protest further tax increases on this issue. Write protests to: Trustees, P.O. Box 1043, La Mesa, Calif. 92041. Vote for non-incumbents at the election on April 17!

Very truly yours
Nicholas W. Lenten

P.S. The above figures have been checked with Mr. Lewis Holtman, Business Administrator, Grossmont Union High School District.

Dear Editor:

Our government, by "deficit financing" is confiscating and embezzling the wealth of everyone in the U. S. by inflation. The thrifty retired people and those on Social Security are the hardest hit.

Here's the sneaky way it is done: The government prints bonds for the amount of its "deficit". Then the Federal Reserve notifies the Bureau of Engraving to print the same amount in Federal Reserve notes. Next, the Federal Reserve exchanges the paper money with the government for U. S. bonds.

We pay about a billion dollars a year in interest to the Federal Reserve on our national debt. This increases taxes and debauches our currency.

Write to the President and your Congressmen to halt Congressional power for "deficit financing".

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley,
President

Eagle Alumni Group Slated

Formation of an Eagle Scout Alumni Association was announced last week by Walter A. Zitlau, newly installed president of the San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America, and persident of San Diego Gas & Electric Company.

Zitlau appointed John Bruhn, fiscal coordinator for the County of San Diego and a member of the executive board of the Boy Scout Council for the past three years, as chairman of the new organization. Prior to his work with Boy Scouts here, Bruhn was active in scouting in Indiana.

Zitlau said the new Eagle Scout Alumni Association will be composed of about 300 adult Eagle Scouts residing in San Diego County. Any adult Eagle Scouts who are interested in joining the association should contact the Boy Scout Service Center, telephone 298-6121 for membership forms.

"The new organization will provide an important new resource for assisting scouting throughout the county, primarily in working with Eagle Scouts," Zitlau said.

The association's principal function will be to provide recognition for persons within the council area who have been Eagle Scouts for 25 years or more and who have had distinguished careers of public service.

From among its ranks, the Eagle Scout Alumni Association will select one each year to receive the national Distinguished Eagle Scout Award, which is presented through the local councils.

Members of the alumni association will meet once a year to select the recipient and present the award.

Two Democrats Get Senate Endrosement

Erving F. Metzgar, president of Grossmont Junior College, is heading an "Educators for Iris Sankey for Senate" committee, he said this week.

He said he was impressed by M. Sankey's interest in a college re-entry programs for women into college life and in continuing education.

Ms. Sankey is an Escondido housewife. Metzgar predicted greater support in the 38th Senate District for her than for any other candidate. He also predicted that she could beat any other Democrat in the race. The election is March 6.

Meanwhile, M. Larry Lawrence, former southern chairman of the California Democrat Party formally announced his support for Dr. Mel Crain, a professor of political science at State College. Dr. Crain has been a member of the Democrats S.D. County Central Committee and is presently vice-chairman.

Both candidates appear to be running against early candidate John Stull, a Republican, rather than for the post left vacant when Congressman Clair Burgener won the U.S. post and resigned from the State Senate.

Two Health Groups To Get AWSDO Aid

SAN DIEGO — Children's Health Center and the Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation will be added as beneficiaries of profits from the sixth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf Tournament Feb. 13-18, Jim Shannon, Century Club president has announced.

Primary beneficiaries of the Open and the two-day Celebrity Pro-Am which precedes it are the Salk Institute for Biological Research and the San Diego County Junior Golf Association.

Sponsors will receive a packet of credentials for the tournament and Andy Williams San Diego Open blazers. They will be guests at the annual "Evening With Andy" dinner show on Feb. 14 at Town and Country Convention Center, an event open only to Pro-Am Player-Sponsors and Century Club Sponsors and wives.

Planners Eye Setback Reductions in Zones

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County planning commissioners have recommended that the front yard setback in the E (estate) zones be allowed to be reduced from 100 to 60 feet from street centerlines.

The reduction would apply to the E-1, E-1-B and E-1-C zones, all of which involve an acre or more.

Planning director Dan Cherrier said the 100 foot setback is considered archaic and no longer justifiable.

The commission had previously adopted a policy requiring agriculturally zoned land be rezoned to E when subdivided. This raised the front setback to 100 feet, for no particular reason.

Try Your Hand at Teaching San Altos Volunteers Asked

There's an unusual request stemming from the San Altos school.

Principal Harold Ball wants volunteers in the attendance area of the school to try their hands at the three Rs.

He wants residents, male or female, to spend a couple of hours a week teaching San Altos pupils reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic.

There is no pay involved but a training period is required.

Interested "teachers" will be instructed by an outstanding teacher — Andy Webb, who is recognized as a teacher instructor. He is additionally, president of the L.G. Teachers Assn.

Citizen teachers will get one or two days a week assignments, Ball said. Teaching periods will be for an hour each assignment.

The program, which will be tried until vacation time will benefit both the school and the "feacher," he said.

Sometimes a youngster can be sparked into his serious quest for learning just because it happens to be an outside teacher, Ball said. By the same token, youngsters, seeking knowledge, can give additional depth to the existence of the outside teacher.

In any event, the outside teacher will better appreciate the burden being carried by the school in his district, Ball said.

Over 600 Students Graduate

More than 600 Grossmont High School District seniors ended their high school studies in January. The students, representing 14% of the total district's senior class of 4,112, chose to graduate mid-term for two major reasons, according to Associate Superintendent, Dr. Stanley McClintic.

"First, a desire to get into higher education at Grossmont Community College or San Diego State University," he said, "and secondly, because of general maturity and a desire to get into the adult world in work in some way."

"This is not a hasty decision on their part," he added. "Most of them have had to plan four to six months ahead of time in the arrangement of their classes to graduate in January.

The January grads this year represent approximately the same number as last year, double the number of two years ago. Santana, currently the most severly overcrowded of the eight district schools, has the highest percentage, with 105 mid-term graduates from a total of 493 seniors, or approximately 21%.

Next is Grossmont High, 18%; El Cajon 17%; Granite Hills, 14%; Monte Vista, 14%; Helix, 12%; El Capitan, 11%; and Mount Miguel, 10%.

Top Teams Get Soccer Loop Wins

The top teams in all three divisions of the Suburban Soccer League won their games last week to keep the standings in pretty much the same conditions.

In Division IV, it was the Rascals whipping the Playboys, 1-0 to remain in first place, while the second place Rippers showed their muscle in a 9-0 stomping of the Braves.

The third place Chargers stayed that way by beating the Colts, 2-1, as the Cues tied for fourth before Saturday's action, took over sole possession of that position by beating the Pros, the very team that the Cues were tied with.

In the only other division game, it was the Monarchs beating the Marauders, 4-2.

In Division III, first place Atlas United romped over the Rangers, 5-0, while the second place Lions kept pace with a 6-0 victory over the Continentals and the third place Roadrunners beat the Raiders, 2-1.

The fourth place Hawks lost to the Celtics, 1-0, but retained their position in the standings, as the fifth place Continentals also lost. In the only other game, the Razorbacks ripped the Royals, 3-0.

In Division II, the Kings continued unbeaten in first place with a 10-0 decision over the Rebels, while second place Sparta trumped the Kingsmen, 4-0.

Third place Aztecs lost to the fourth place Crusaders, but retained a slim one-point edge over the winners in the standings.

Loma Villa crawled into fifth place with a 4-2 decision over Torino, knocking the losers into sixth place.

This Saturday, Division II games will be played at Robb Field and at San Diego State, Division III games are slated at Sunset Park and Monte Vista High, while Division IV games will be at Sunset Park.

Players of the week last week were Joe Booth, of the Lions in Division III, who tallied four goals, and Peter Dill and Johnny Houlihan, who each scored four times for the Rippers in Division IV.

PUPPET LADY — Marie Hitchcock, of Spring Valley, who is known as San Diego's official puppet lady, has a few words for Cornelius Crow, one of her hand puppets, in recent show at a local elementary school. Mrs. Hitchcock, who also does shows with her scarlet macaw, "Kooky", is the subject of a picture-article in the current issue of AMERICAN SOROPTIMIST MAGAZINE.

Mrs. Hitchcock Topic of Magazine Picture-Article

A Spring Valley woman, Marie Hitchcock, 61, of 3002 Helix st., who became a noted puppeteer when most women of her generation are satisfied with the quiet and rest earned by longevity, is the subject of a picture-article in the current issue of AMERICAN SOROPTIMIST.

The magazine is the publication of Soroptimists International, an organization of business and professional women. Mrs. Hitchcock is a member of the Lemon Grove chapter. Mrs. Bernadine Southard is president of the local chapter.

The magazine shows a picture of Mrs. Hitchcock in a schoolroom and the article reports:

"San Diego's official Puppet Lady is Marie Hitchcock whose shows are seen by over 5,000 children each month. For 24 years Marie has created and performed puppet shows that intentionally carry a message. Her best known and most popular puppet is Sergeant Friendly. Dressed in a uniform and police badge, he represents the "city's finest" and has been designed specifically to present the policeman as a friend to children. So successful has his performance been that Marie was awarded the Freedoms Foundation George Washington Honor Medal for community service.

"Besides her regular public school assembly programs and her work at the Puppet Theatre in San Diego's Balboa Park, she gives benefits for the County Humane Society, the March of Dimes, etc. Marie also wrote "Once Upon a Toothache" to explain dental hygiene which, for several years, was presented in San Diego's Schools by the County Dental Auxiliary before being loaned out to two other cities.

"Marie's home is full of animal orphans which she trains and uses in her shows: a macaw is presently helping Marie to put across her message. During the year 1972-73 Marie is serving as the San Diego County Humane Society's Ambassador of Kindness."

Mrs. Hitchcock will celebrate her Silver Jubilee of Puppeteering this year. The mayor of the City of San Diego named her the city's official puppeteer 25 years ago when she was exhibiting her art at the San Diego Public Library.

Since then she has attracted national attention although she performs locally for the most part — and for children, generally. Last month she performed for 8,000 youngsters at various schools. As of today, she has assignments at 14 public schools, plus several adult group presentations. She is the subject of many columns and news features in various newspapers.

She is not hard to reach by telephone. Her name is in the white pages in big, bold type "HITCHCOCK, MARIE, PUPPET LADY."

Jim's Unbeaten In La Mesa League

Jim's U-Rent continued unbeaten in Division II, but the La Mesa Lions and American Legion Post 282 are still battling for first place in Division I of the La Mesa Recreation Basketball League.

The Lions looked sharp against Scotty's Shell and La Mesa Lumber, winning via 68-55 and 52-39 scores. Post 282 took on Scotty's Shell and won, 78-68, but had to battle for a 52-48 decision over Optimists.

In Division II, Jim's U-Rent topped second place Rotary, 56-48, to drop the losers two games out of first place. Jim's also thumped Kiwanis, 55-43.

Other Division II games saw Recreation over Kiwanis, 68-42, and King's Engraving over Recreation, 39-26.

In the B League, it was La Mesa Exchange winning a pair of games to remain unbeaten while the former league leaders, the Warriors, split a pair of games to drop one game off the pace.

Exchange topped Kiwanis and ripped Casa Drug, 57-35, while the Warriors beat the Optimists before falling to Rotary, 49-44.

In the C league, a three way tie for first place turned into a two way tie as the Bob Cats fell into third place by losing to the Aztecs, 41-22. The Aztecs also beat the Go-Getters to keep pace with the Dolphins who beat the Go-Getters and the Bruins. The Aztecs and Dolphins are tied for the top spot with 7-1 records.

Grossmont Gets Late Basket To Beat Matadors

Last week's basketball action for Mt. Miguel High School saw the team's chances of finishing in second place begin to fade as the Matadors split a pair of games.

On Tuesday, the Spring Valley quintet visited Grossmont in a grueling battle which saw the Foothillers pull it out in the waning seconds, 67-66.

Grossmont managed to squeeze away to small leads during the first half of the game and ended up with a five-point bulge at halftime, largely on the shooting of Dan DeKock, who later turned out to be Mt. Miguel's undoing.

Mt. Miguel's fine pressing defense and some sloppy play by Grossmont enabled the visitors to eat away at the 'Hiller lead during the second half until Mt. Miguel seized the lead late in the fourth quarter.

But DeKock hit a bucket and the 'Hillers were back on top until Bob Balderas hit a layup with 46 seconds remaining to give Mt. Miguel a single-point edge.

DeKock again came down court with the ball and went in for an all but uncontested layup to finish the scoring. Grossmont tightened up the defense at that point and the battle to see which team got the last shot was on, but neither team could score.

Grossmont's victory celebration was short-lived as Helix

Milers Add Glamour To Indoor Games

One of the glamour events of any track meet is the mile run and the San Diego Indoor Games has lined up outstanding fields for the mile for the February 17 meet in the San Diego Sports Arena.

Meet Director Tony Sucec announced that the men's field will feature five sub four-minute milers.

The headliner in the mile is Mike Boit of Kenya. Boit was a bronze medalist in the 800 meters in the Olympics in Munich and finished fourth in the 1,500 meters.

Top challenger for Boit is American Bob Wheeler of Duke. Wheeler ran the 1,500 meters for the U. S. in the Olympics and is the current indoor mile leader with a time of 4:00.5 set in the CYO Meet in Maryland earlier this year. Wheeler ran a 3:38.3 1,500 meters in Europe after the Olympics. That time is equal to a 3:56 mile.

Jan Prasek of Poland, who is currently a student at U. of Texas is also entered in the mile field. Prasek has run a 3:41.2 1,500 meters which is equal to a 3:59 mile.

Other newcomers to the field are Duncan McDonald and Willie Eashman. McDonald, a former Stanford runner who is now competing for the Outrigger Canoe Club of Hayward, has a best of 3:58.4 in the mile. Eashman of Cal State Hayward was a U. S. finalist in the Olympic Trials and has run a 3.41 1,500 meters.

Already signed are Chuck LaBenz and Peter Kaal. LaBenz, the former Arizona runner, has a 3:56.9 best mile outdoors and a 3:58.1 best indoors. The 3:58.1 is the sixth fastest indoor mile in history and was run in the San Diego Indoor Games in 1971 when Jim Ryun tied the world indoor record.

Kaal, a South African, has run a best 3:59.9 in the mile. Both LaBenz and Kaal compete for the Pacific Coast Club.

Other outstanding athletes who are scheduled to participate, as of Feb. 5 are:

Late 'Hiller Bucket Foils Matador Hopes

High beat the 'Hillers, 78-59 to knock the Grossmont group into a tie for third place with Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista, all with 6-3 records.

Mt. Miguel went on to knock off Granite Hills, 73-66 after compiling a good first half lead and coasting home.

Mt. Miguel's last hope to calm second place will be on the line tomorrow night when the Matadors invade the Helix gym. A win for the Matadors, coupled with a loss by Grossmont would give Mt. Miguel second place.

WILLIAMS READY — Namesake of the sixth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open tries out the Torrey Pines course that will be the site of the popular tourney, Feb. 13-18. Andy will compete with celebrity friends in the Pro-Am the first two days.

Harney to Defend Andy Williams Title

Beginning with a celebrity-studded Pro-Am and concluding with a network telecast that may be watched by as many as 30 million people, the sixth annual $190,000 Andy Williams San Diego Open gets under way here next Tuesday.

The Celebrity Pro-Am, featuring such names as Bob Hope, Dean Martin, Buck Owens, Glen Campbell, Danny Thomas, Willie Mays, John Hadl and Efrem Zimbalist, will be held at North Torrey Pines and La Costa Country Club courses on Tuesday and at both Torrey Pines courses Wednesday.

Paul Harney will defend his title in the four-day Open starting Feb. 15 on the South Torrey Pines course. Opposing him will be former AWSDO champions George Archer, Tom Weiskopf and Pete Brown as well as such world-famous pros as Bill Casper, Gene Littler, Doug Sanders, Grier Jones, Tom Aaron, Bruce Crampton, Dave Hill, Bobby Mitchell, John Miller, Frank Beard and Miller Barber.

With more entries expected this week, tourney officials are still hopeful of landing the tour superstars, Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino.

San Diego County's own hopes in the tourney rest on Casper of Bonita, Littler and Chuck Courtney of La Jolla, and Al Geiberger of Ramona.

Some 90,000 are expected to attend the six-day session, lured by the chance to see the great stars of golf competing on the same course the public does. In previous years, a combination of south and north courses was used.

Also appealing to spectators will be additional seating at the 18th green and 1,000 new free seats at bleachers placed around the course. Many other innovations have been conceived by tournament chairman Hal Tebbetts and executive director Norrie West for the benefit of golf fans.

Tickets at reduced advance rates will be available through Monday, Feb. 12 at over 300 retail stores, banks, savings and loan institutions and at golf courses in San Diego County. They are also on sale at most golf courses in Orange County and at AWSDO headquarters at the Torrey Pines Inn.

The San Diego Transit Corporation will offer shuttle bus service between the course and the route "R" stop at La Jolla Shores dr. and North Torrey Pines road in La Jolla.

Fireworks Committee Seeks Contributions

The Heartland Fireworks Committee of the La Mesa Chamber of Commerce announced last week that funds are now being sought to underwrite this year's fireworks display, which will originate from atop Eastridge Hill July 4.

The chamber announced that efforts are being made to make the display self-supporting this year, as no money is expected to be offered by the La Mesa City Council.

Contributions should be sent to P.O. Box 235, La Mesa, 92041, or dropped off at the chamber office, 8155 University ave., La Mesa.

Guests from the University will include the Rev. Carl M. Reinert, S. J., Vice President for University Relations, and Bernie Conway, Alumni Director.

Nearly 219 Creighton University alumni have been invited to the party from the San Diego area. Parents of Creighton students and parents of students interested in attending Creighton are also invited.

Swimmers Fare Well

Local swimmers fared well in the recent Chula Vista Aquatic Association Freestyle Festival.

A girls' relay team of Kathy Walsh, Therese Zak, Charlene Savoie and Kathy Hart earned fourth and sixth places in two events.

Individually, Kathy Hart claimed a third and a sixth in two events, Caroline Hart nabbed a sixth and an eighth, and Julie Zak took a pair of eighths.

Other team members, all swimming with the Carman Ranch Swimming Association, were Denise and Andy King, Christy Tarvin, Gwen Johnson, Carol Savoie, and Terry Riggs. Dave Szuch is the coach of the AAU team.

Kirby, Mike Ivie Ink 1973 Padres Pacts

Clay Kirby, the Padres' premier right-hand pitcher, has signed his 1973 contract, it was announced by Peter Bavasi, vice president and general manager.

Kirby in 1972 led the Padre staff in victories (12) in 1972 and in strikeouts (175). He worked 239 innings with an impressive 3.13 earned run average.

Only 24, Kirby already has started 143 major league games, all for the Padres. Early next season he will pass 1,000 major league innings pitched.

The right-hander, who often in the past has been victimized by fate, continued to be plagued by ill-luck last season. The Padres were blanked in five of Kirby's defeats and managed to score only one run in three other setbacks.

Kirby also was involved in four extra-inning games in 1972 and came away with little for his efforts; a 2-1 10-inning loss to Chicago, a 13-inning no-decision against the Pirates, another no-decision scoreless effort over 10 innings against the Reds and an 11-inning 3-2 loss to Philadelphia.

Such misfortune is nothing new to the slender and talented hurler who was the Padres' sixth round selection in the expansion draft.

The only hit he allowed the Giants in a game in 1971 was a homer by Willie McCovey and the year before he worked eight hitless innings against the Mets but trailed, 1-0, when taken out of the game for a pinch hitter.

Kirby won three games without a loss against Atlanta last season and was particularly effective against Chicago, permitting the Cubs only four earned runs in 25 innings.

Outfielder "Cito" Gaston, who recovered from an early-season injury to hit a strong .269 last season, and catcher Mike Ivie, have also signed 1973 contracts bringing to 25 the number of players the Padres have signed up.

Gaston missed the entire month of May last year when, on April 30, he sprained an ankle trying to avoid a pitch by Philadelphia's Billy Champion.

When the 28-year-old outfielder finally returned to the lineup on June 30, he still was obliged to favor his leg.

Nevertheless, Gaston put together a 15-game hitting streak (matched later by Nate Colbert) from July 28 to Aug. 9 and hit at a .333 clip during most of August to boost his average to .280.

Ivie, 20, was a standout last season on the championship Alexandria (La.) club of the Texas League where he hit .291 in 133 games and had 24 homers and 28 doubles.

The right-hand hitting Ivie was named to the Texas League's All-Star team as first baseman but will be a candidate for the catching spot with the Padres this season.

He, along with the team's other catchers and the pitchers are to work out the first time Feb. 26 at Yuma, Arizona. The first full squad spring training workout is scheduled on March 1.

Duel For Loop Title Tomorrow

The battle of the unbeatens looms tomorrow night when the El Cajon Braves invade the Monte Vista gymnasium in a showdown battle for the Grossmont League wrestling title at 8 p.m.

Monte Vista is the overwhelming favorite, based on a superior lightweight crew and experienced wrestlers in nearly every weight class.

El Cajon, a team that recently thumped defending CIF champion Mt. Miguel, 33-22, is young and inexperienced, but many of the Brave grapplers can surprise.

Monte Vista whipped Mt. Miguel by a bigger score than did the Braves, but the Monarchs caught the Matadors sleeping in that match.

El Cajon won a solid victory by good middle weights and surprising heavyweight efforts.

Tomorrow night's battle will probably see Monte Vista grabbing a quick lead before things go head-to-head in the middle divisions. If El Cajon has a chance to win the match, it'll be in the middle bouts, where the Braves will need to take the lead.

In the heavyweights, Monte Vista has looked pretty good and El Cajon has been less than impressive. In the past couple of weeks, however, the Braves have been coming on strong in the heavies and could be surprising.

The winning formula for El Cajon will have to involve overcoming the lightweight deficit in the middle matches to take the lead, then hold on in the heavyweights for the victory.

Two Hold Up S.V. Liquor

Two men robbed the Spring Valley Liquor store of about $170 last week.

According to Sheriff's Department reports, the two suspects came into the store shortly after 9 p.m. last Sunday. One went to the rear of the business, located at 9510 Jamacha rd., while the other approached the clerk at the cash register, displaying a pistol, possibly an automatic.

After obtaining the cash, the two suspects fled on foot.

The first suspect, who carried the pistol, was described as a Negro, about 50 years of age, 6-3 and 180 pounds, wearing a green jacket, white pants and a short Afro haircut.

The second suspect was described as of Mexican descent, 35 to 40 years old, about 5-7 and 180 pounds, wearing khaki colored clothing.

Environment Confab Planned By County

A national conference on regional environmental management, scheduled for San Diego this month will emphasize the practical aspects of the field and not the philosophic.

The two-day meet, sponsored jointly by the Integrated Regional Environmental Management Project of the County of San Diego and United States International University's Center for Urban and Human Development, will be held February 26 and 27.

Speakers and participants are expected from Washington, D.C., North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Pennsylvania, as well as the west, in the conference.

Farmers Needed

Only about 15 per cent of the land area of North Vietnam is cultivated.

Ali

Ali-Bugner Fight Wed. At Arena

Muhammad Ali, who is scheduled to fight Ken Norton in San Diego March 31, will see action in San Diego via closed circuit television Wednesday when he meets Joe Bugner, the handsome Hungarian from St. Ives, England.

Ali, former heavyweight champ who was defeated by Joe Frazier, sees himself reapproaching the title. He stopped Bob Foster Feb. 21; faces Bugner with optimism on Feb. 14, and then figures to prance through the Ken Norton set-to with hardly a sweat before taking on George Foreman.

The first obstacle, Bugner, European heavyweight king, is 22 years old compared with Ali's 31. Bugner is 6-4. Has had 49 fights and boasts a 44-4-1 record with 27 ko's.

The fight will emanate from Las Vegas and will be screened at the Sports Arena starting at 6:30. Tickets are $8.25, $6.25 and $4.25 with $1 off for military and seniors.

Also on the card are John Conteh vs. Terry Daniels and Johnny Stracey vs. Danny McAloon.

Conteh, Stracey and Bugner are English; their opponents are American. The Wednesday fights are tagged "The British are Coming." Ali now calls himself "The People's Champion."

Monarchs Get Two Wins In Quest Of CIF Spot

Monte Vista High School's quest for a CIF playoff spot continued last week as the Moanarchs picked up a pair of basketball victories to inch into a tie for second place with Grossmont and Mt. Miguel.

The Monarchs trumped the Granite Hills Eagles on Tuesday by fighting off an Eagle rally, then trounced El Capitan via an unbelievable second half defensive effort.

On Tuesday, the Monarchs invaded the Eagle nest and battled it out elbow-to-elbow in the first quarter, taking a two-point advantage into the second period, where the visitors enlarged the bulge to eight points.

The Spring Valley team continued the pace in the third quarter, drawing away until the lead was an even dozen points as the fourth period got underway.

Granite Hills fought off a solid Monte Vista defense as the game waned but could pull no closer than six points.

On Thursday, the Monarchs met El Cap in the Monarch gym, but the Vaqueros showed more muscle in the first half than the hosts expected.

Monte Vista began the second half with a one-point defecit rather than a solid lead that was expected.

The second half was a different kind of game, however, as the Monte Vistans began to draw away until they held a four-point lead as the final stanza began.

El Capitan then rolled over and played dead for the following eight minutes while Monte Vista hit the nets seemingly at will. El Cap could score no more than 4 points against one of the county's top defensive teams, but the Monarchs tallied 21 to turn it into no contest.

Monte Vista was faced with a must-win game this week when the Monarchs met the Mt. Miguel Matadors Tuesday. Loser of that game is all but eliminated from CIF competition.

Monte Vista faces an easier foe tomorrow night when the Monarchs travel to El Cajon for an encounter with the Braves. Next Tuesday, however, the local school has a date at Helix for an almost hopeless attempt at upsetting the Highlanders.

Parker New Manager Of Chula Vista Store

Eurtly Parker has assumed the duties of Manager at Builders Emporium in Chula Vista, after first completing his on-the-job training program with the do-it-yourself hardware store.

Parker served as Assistant Manager at the Builders Emporium in Spring Valley, and was involved in the Management Training Program at Builders in Escondido.

It was John Dunlop who, in 1887, made the first air-filled automobile tire which was later to replace the solid rubber kind.

OLD GLOBE — Dagmar Box, left, portrays a young wife who loans her apartment for the romantic encounters of Anthony Drake and Jenifer Henn, without telling her husband, Robert Hays, in the comedy "Say Who You Are" opening February 13 on stage at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park, continuing nightly except Monday through March 18.

Romantic Chaos In Old Globe Comedy 'Say Who You Are'

An innocent scheme to encourage the romatic encounters of a girl friend backfires on a young wife in "Say Who You Are" opening February 13 on stage at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

The romantic comedy will be directed by Charles L. Vernon. Performances are scheduled nightly except Monday through March 18.

The English play features Dagmar Box, Jenifer Henn, Robert Hays and Anthony Drake. Set in contemporary London, the four character play was written by Keith Waterhouse and Willis Hall.

Without informing her husband, a young wife loans their apartment each Friday night. While they are attending a film, a girl friend pursues romantic pleasures with her boy friend. To avoid permanent relationship the single girl implies she is married. Her lover concludes she is married to the man who lives in the apartment. When husband discovers the deception encouraged by his wife, "Say Who You Are" explodes into a wildly funny marital "who's whose."

Last spring director Vernon staged "Feiffer's People" for the Carter Centre Stage. The comedy was selected as the best production of the previous season.

Dagmar Box was seen on the Old Globe Theatre stage previously in "Here Today." Miss Henn appeared in "Halfway Up the Tree" and "Mary, Mary," receiving Old Globe Atlas Award nominations for both performances.

Robert Hays acted opposite Leonard Nimoy last season in the Old Globe production of "The Man in the Glass Booth." He received an Old Globe Atlas Award nomination for his performance as well as earlier roles in "Halfway Up the Tree" and "Harvey." Anthony Drake is making his first local stage appearance in "Say Who You Are."

The complex unit setting for "Say Who You Are" is designed by Peggy Kellner, Old Globe Theatre art director. Steven T. Howell is lighting designer.

Students through college may purchase tickets for $2, available for all performances except Saturday evening.

Yoga Programs Sponsored By College, Library

The opportunity to explore the potential of "Yoga for Health and Happiness" will be available to the public at 7:30 p.m., February 13 at the Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, 8053 University ave., La Mesa and again at 8 p.m., February 14 in the Fine Arts Recital Hall at Grossmont College.

The programs on Yoga are part of a series titled "Perception and Potential of the Whole Person" sponsored by the La Mesa Library and Grossmont College's Office of Community Services.

The Tuesday evening program will feature a lecture-demonstration by John Anderson, assistant director of the University of California San Diego Yoga Workshop. Anderson will discuss and demontrate both Hatha and Dhyana Yoga explaining the advantages of the various postures, exercises and meditation.

Wednesday's program will feature Chela Wakefield, director of the University of California San Diego Yoga Workshop since 1969 and director of Education and Counseling for the Phenomenological Sciences Institute, La Jolla. Miss Wakefield will also demonstrate the various postures, exercises and meditation as well as discuss Hatha-Dhyana Yoga as a discipline concerned with perfect health as a way of life.

The public is invited to attend either program and there is no charge for admission.

SDG & E Registers Legislative Advocates

San Diego Gas & Electric Company announced it would reluctantly register five employees on a temporary basis as legislative advocates, to ensure compliance with a new County ordinance.

The company said that the new ordinance fails to distinguish that a untility must by necessity deal with various County departments almost on a daily basis on matters of zoning and general land use, rights of way, and compliance rulings.

"We consider that nearly all of our business with the County is administrative in character, rather than legislative, but we recognize that the distinction is subject to legal interpretations. We understand that guidelines based on legal interpretations will be issued in the very near future. Should the guidelines so indicate, we may withdraw the registration of one or more of our people," said Walter A. Zitlau, SDG&E president.

"Therefore, to be on the safe side, we are registering several persons from our legal and engineering land departments, even though we agree with Supervisor William Craven's comment, as reported in the press, that this ordinance is a case of gigantic overkill," said Zitlau.

Women Voters Plan Membership Coffee

The League of Women Voters of Grossmont-Cajon Valley will hold an informal coffee for prospective and new members February 13 at 10 a.m. in the home of Barbara Frank, 1701 El Pico dr., El Cajon.

The league's purposes, which will include their studies and services offered to inform citizens on government, will be explained by president Dona Foster. The league is a non-partisan, non-profit organization and its structure will be discussed by Dana Quittner.

Free league publications also will be available, according to membership chairman Joanna Kendall.

Laura Batt to Show Techniques in Painting

Slated for display at the Dilly Daubers Art Club meeting next week are several works by Pacific Beach artist Laura Batt.

Miss Batt, who will demonstrate some of her techniques, is known for her diversity of style as well as her experiences with different media, including wax on burlap.

Don Juan Episode Is Grossmont Play

Grossmont College's Communication Arts/Drama Department will open the Griffin Players production of George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" at 8:30 p.m., this evening in the Stagehouse Theatre. The play, directed by Martin F. Gerrish, will also be presented on February 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17.

Don Juan will be portrayed by Arthur Sousa, El Cajon, while Richard Wagle, also El Cajon, plays the statue. Dona Ana will be played by Diane Kucala and Stephan Brown will portray the devil. Both are from Spring Valley.

"Don Juan in Hell" was originally written as an episode in the larger play "Man and Superman." Most productions of Shaw's gay account of a man-hunt by a young lady who knows her own mind omitted the Don Juan episode which makes a full evening's entertainment by itself.

Don Juan is considered by many to be a religious play and one of the most puritanical pieces of dramatic literature ever written in the English language since John Milton composed his biblical tragedy Samson Agonistes more than two and a half centuries ago.

The anti-amorist view of the legendary Spanish rake was not new to Shaw when he wrote "Don Juan in Hell" and incorporated it as John Tanner's dream episode in "Man and Superman." In "Man and Superman," Shaw calls the Don Juan interlude the only real treatment of the subject of sex ever written.

In the episode, in which Tanner dreams of another Don Juan who does not succumb to women at all and rejects all the blandishments of Sex, is a Don Juan who could surpass any Puritan in abstinence and moral purity. In "Don Juan in Hell" Shaw provides a sharp distinction between Casanova and Don Juan, the traditional rebel who in Shaw's up-to-date version rebels against everything that limits man's potentialities including sex itself.

Shaw was willing to get along without "plot" and never maintained that a play could be written without "characterization." Actually, Don Juan and the Devil are as memorable a pair of stage characters as any in modern English drama.

Don Juan was recently presented as a reading at the Civic Theatre and more recently opened at the Palace Theatre in New York. The Grossmont College production of Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" will feature a set and costumes as opposed to "a reading."

The public is invited. General admission is $1.50. Reservations are required and may be made by calling 465-1700, ext. 327.

Safty Bumper Vehicles Get Insurance Discount

"Bumpers that can take a bump are now available from many auto manufacturers", Regional Associate Vice President, F. P. Mims noted as he released a current list of 1973 model passenger cars that qualify for Allstate Insurance company's 15 and 20 percent discounts on collision insurance.

Allstate's 20 percent discount, first offered in March 1970, is available for 1973 American Motors' Hornets and Gremlins equipped with an optional rear recoverable bumper system, according to Mims.

This maximum discount requires that a car withstand a 5 mile per hour crash, front and rear, into a standard test barrier without any damage.

1973 Models certified for Allstate's 15 percent discount include all of Chrysler Corporation's passenger car, American Motors' Matador and Ambassador models, all Lincolns and Continentals, and all domestic Mercurys.

Ford's Thunderbird also meets the performance levels for the 15 percent discount. All other Ford domestic passenger cars qualify for the 15-percent discount when equipped with factory-installed front and rear bumper guards or the deluxe bumper group.

Among foreign manufacturers, Volvo has certified all its 1973 passenger cars for the 15 percent discount and SAAB has certified its 97 and 99 models for it.

The 15 percent discount is offered for cars meeting Allstate's criteria of a test barrier impact at 5 miles per hour front and 2½ miles per hour rear without any damage.

All other 1973 passenger makes and models that meet the 1973 Federal bumper standards qualify for a 10 percent collision insurance discount. They require barrier crashes of 5 miles per hour front and 2½ miles per hour rear without damage to a car's safety related systems, such as lighting and cooling systems, exhaust and fuel lines.

Pick-up truck, jeep-style and van-type vehicle are not eligible for a discount.

Denver is led by former Gulls Joe Noris and Kevin O'Shea along with rugged defenseman Roger Lafreniere and goalie Chris Worthy.

The two clubs have met a total of nine times this season with everything even at three wins, three losses and three ties for each club. Right wing Bob Courcy is the top point getter for the Gulls in the nine games with seven goals and five assists for twelve points.

The next day the Gulls fly to Phoenix for a game against the Roadrunners. It will be broadcast via KOGO at 7 p.m. with John Brooks calling tht game.

The two clubs get back in action in San Diego Sunday at the Arena at 7 p.m. Last Sunday the Gulls sent 7,158 fans home happy with a big 4-2 win over the Roadrunners. The victory was the 17th on home ice for the Gulls. Their home record is now 17-3-3. The team record is 22 home wins set during the 1967-68 season. With thirteen home games left on the schedule, the Gulls are almost certain to set a new team record.

Sunday's game with the Roadrunners will be Morrell Ladies Night. All ladies will receive a $1 discount on all $3.50 and $3 seats. They will also be eligible to win a Morrell Treasure of Meat, to be chosen in a drawing during the first intermission.

GULL NOTES: Ken Broderick continues to lead the WHL goalies with a 2.77 goals against mark . . . He is the only goalie in the league to have a goals against record of under 3.00 . . . They have not lost on home ice since January 6.

Arrest Powers For Dog Catchers

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Animal control officers for the county should have arrest powers, the Board of Supervisors have decided.

County Counsel Robert Berrey was directed to prepare an ordinance for a future vote of the board.

This does not mean, however, that animal regulation officers are going to start hauling people off to jail. The purpose is to allow them legal power to issue citations to persons who are allowing their dogs to run free in violation of the law.

The county is the dog catcher for six cities as well as the unincorporated territory.

Helix Agrees With National Water Report

Substantial agreement with conclusions about urban water use reached in the National Water Commission's draft of a report on national water policy was expressed last week in a statement to the Commission's Chairman, Charles F. Luce, from Helix Water District.

The report, based on a $5 million study, has no direct effect on policy but will serve as a guideline to Congress and others interested in water development for many years.

"Helix believes that, at the local service level, the primary considerations should be related to providing the type of service desired by the community at the least cost," the statement emphasizes.

The draft report states, "Federal water programs can be easily adjusted to support whatever population distribution policy the Nation adopts. However, water programs are not adequate to effectuate a national policy concerning where people will live.

"Water programs should continue to accommodate future population growth and economic well-being by responding to, rather than trying to influence, the pattern of population distribution."

While the local district was in accord with the national report in many areas, Helix criticized the report in the areas of dry farming and the use of the soy bean.

The federal reports urged more emphasis on dry farming and giving up beef in favor of protein derived from the soy bean. The Helix district sought further clarification on studies of both topics.

WASHINGTON — Three young men locally have been nominated by Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin for appointments to the national service academies.

Indian Camp Found in Anza Borrego Desert

An Indian campsite several hundred years old, one of the few undisturbed ones left in Southern California, has been found in a remote area of Anza-Borrego Desert State Park in San Diego County.

The site was explored and mapped over the Christmas holidays by an eight-man volunteer crew of archaeologists assembled from several universities by William C. Seidel, the park's archaeologist. Tim Gross of Spring Valley headed the field crew.

Surveying equipment and supplies were helicoptered in as a public service by the 76th Aviation Group of the California Army National Guard. The expedition itself traveled the several miles of rugged desert country on foot.

Naval Air Squadron VFP-63 from Miramar helped with aerial photography.

It wouldn't be impressive to the untrained eye, Gross noted: a few holes worn into the bedrock by years of acorn grinding, some shards of pottery, ashes and charred wood from cooking fires.

The prize find was a six-inch square heating stone, carefully hidden away and then left behind by its long departed owner. But the archaeologists recognized it as of a material not native to the area, and thus an indication of trade or at least travel to some distant point. With other bits and pieces, it will help unfold the story of the Indians who lived and worked there.

"The great value is that this is one of the few sites of any kind that is undisturbed, with artifacts and other evidences of human use exactly as they were left when the Indians last used the site," Gross said.

SECOND TIME — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolfe, of 1221 Purdy st., Spring Valley, heard a clatter in their backyard Sunday night, only to go out and find an automobile parked in this position. The car apparently skidded off of Jamacha rd. and into the Wolfe yard. It was the second time since 1970 that an automoble has landed there, and the sixth car to run off the road in that section of the road. Residents in the area have been in contact with the County Engineer Department in an effort to get existing guardrail extended to protect their yards. (Steve Wolfe photo)

Ace Auto Burglarized

A burglary last week at Ace Auto Supply in Lemon Grove resulted in the loss of $3,250, about $200 worth of auto parts, and a safe.

Burglars entered the store sometime between last Sunday afternoon and Monday morning by prying a back door open, possibly with a tire iron.

The thieves then apparently turned off the store's burglar alarm with a key, broke cement from around a floor safe, took several auto parts and fled with the safe containing the money and parts.

The burglars apparently wore tennis shoes, as footprints of that type were observed near the back door of the business and near where the safe was located.

Storm Front Visits

A fairly strong storm front visited the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley area Monday night and Tuesday morning, dropping .36 inches of moisture.

The storm brought this season's total to a whopping 9.80 inches, as compared with only 4.49 inches at this time last year.

Rain season is from July 1.

Helicopter Log Would Make Good TV Script Storyline

It is only when the Sheriff's helicopter is involved in something dramatic enough to compete with a television copcriminal yarn that the operation gets any attention.

Yet, their day-by-day activity is proving as interesting and effective as any arm of law enforcement.

The reports turned in by members of the helicopter service are as laconic as the police blotter. They shouldn't be because the reports, if amplified only slightly, could make some of the best teevee scripts look amatuerish.

The biggest burden the helicpter service bears is its name — Aerial Support To Regional Enforcement Agencies.

Not many people in the Sheriff's Department, even some of those who are assigned to the helicopter service, can call it out. The acronym is ASTREA which is also, says an ASTREA spokesman, the Greek goddess of justice.

Here are some of the items gleaned from the helicopter log for the past several weeks:

Transported 22-month old boy from Julian to Palomar hospital. The youngster had swallowed poison. The flight took 40 minutes over congested weekend traffic.

Stood guard over an apparent service station robbery in Lemon Grove as sheriff's vehicles converged on the scene and arrested a suspect who was charged with illegal discharge of a firearm and dangerous drugs.

Carried an accidental gunshot victim from Cameron guard station to Grossmont hospital when ambulance service was subjected to one-hour delay.

Red distress flares from a cabin cruiser at sea were reported to Coast Guard. A cutter was dispatched to aid the vessel.

Trailed a vehicle reported to be occupied by persons possessing dangerous drugs. When it parked, notified deputies in patrol cars. They arrested suspect.

Suspicious suspects in a grove in Spring Valley at night were picked out with a locator light from helicopter. Two suspects were arrested for dangerous drugs.

A suicide attempt was reported in the Alpine area Helicopter officers landed, rendered medical assistance for slashed wrist, pill overdose, and carbon monoxide poisoning.

A stolen catapillar was located near Padre Dam in Santee with two suspects sleeping on it. The Cat was returned to County Dump duty and the suspects charged with being drunk.

Transportation was provided to radio repairman to Los Pinos Mountain transmitter where county station was off the air. Repair was effected in hours. Because of the heavy snow on the mountain at the time, the radio down time might have been for days.

A pickup truck abandoned in a remote area near Poway proved to be a stolen vehicle. ASTREA noted license number from the air and effected the recovery.

A noontime armed robbery in San Diego was reported without detail except for locale. ASTREA utilized an expanding circle operation until a description was given. Recalling the vehicle as one seen earlier in the operation, ASTREA re-located it. A hot-stop was made by 12 SD PD units. The helicopter apparently convinced the suspects not to make a run for it.

White cones in a suspicious clearing in heavy brush in the Chula Vista area was the subject of a report. A ground unit investigated. It was a stand of marijuana and was impounded.

There's a storyline in every one of the above reports. All you have to do is write 'em.

Sups Re-Arrange Meeting Schedule

A new schedule for Board of Supervisors meetings and pre-meeting conferences will take effect this week, according to Chairman Jack Walsh.

Walsh said the pre-meeting conferences will continue to start at 8:30 a.m. each Tuesday, but will end at 8:55 instead of the previous 9:30.

"The Supervisors will then begin their regular meetings at 9 a.m. each Tuesday morning instead of 9:30," he said.

Walsh emphasized that the public may attend the pre-meeting conference but said the only participants are the Supervisors and County staff as they review the agenda.

"We welcome public comments and participation in the meeting itself, and starting the meetings 30 minutes earlier allows more time for citizen input," Walsh said.

CHP Officers Set Bike Rodeo Tests

A California Highway Patrol sponsored bicycle rodeo will be conducted at 9 local schools it was announced by the Patrol's Accident Reduction Team (ART).

Beginning early next month, all elementary schools in Lemon Grove and Rancho and Avondale in Spring Valley will be tested — one by one.

Winners and three runners-up from each school will compete in a grand rodeo with a 10-speed bike, contributed by the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club.

At the school level tests will be given for figure 8s, intersection control, stop signs, and turns.

There will be a slow ride and double U-turns tests.

A slolom course between plastic cones will wind it up.

Each test will take about 10 minutes. The first test is scheduled for San Miguel Elementary school. The date will be announced later. The run-off will probably be held at Palm Junior High CHP Officer Bob Barrett said.

Lochmoeller said that there are already many women serving in such positions as den leaders, den leader coaches, assistant den leaders, merit badge counselors, associate advisors, and as unit committee chairmen and members.

"In addition to the opening of the Boy Scouts of America to more women," Lochmoeller said, "we're recognizing the abilities of younger men and offering them responsibilities that we know they can carry."

ward liberalism and permissiveness, and lack of vocational training programs.

School taxes, he notes, were up 28.5 cents in 1972-73 to which another 30-35 cents is proposed to be added in 1973-74 — a total disregard for the citizens.

He charges that a lack of trust appears to exist between the board, the students, the administrators and teachers.

Funke charges that the present board is not responsive to the public thus frustrating local control objectivity.

"I cannot accept leadership (of the administration) that has eroded the rapport that once existed between administration, staff and teachers," Funke said. "Nor can I accept claims that fiscal responsibility exists today in this district where expenditures have increased over 124% during the past six years while student population increase during the same period was less than 27%."

Drew noted that administration costs over the same six years had increased 55%.

NEW BOARD MEMBER — Local veterinarian Robert Burns, of the Lemon Grove Veterinarian Hospital, was recently appointed to the Lemon Grove Fire Board, replacing Parker Shumate, who was forced to resign his position after moving out of the district. The new board member will attend his first board meeting as a director Monday night.

Local Vet Appointed To Lemon Grove Fire Board

Robert F. Burns, a Lemon Grove doctor of veterinary medicine, has been appointed to the board of directors of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District.

He will fill the post relinquished by Parker Shumate who moved from the district. He is the second director to give up his post because of geography. Within the last two months Jack Hemmer bowed out and Attorney Jim Dorman replaced him. Both Dorman and Dr. Burns will face an election in Nov. 1975 should they decide to continue to serve. The other board member, William E. Wardwell, is the senior member, with 8 years of service. He faces an election this year.

Dr. Burns and his family live at 8337 Mt. Vernon st. in Lemon Grove. He operates the L.G. Veterinary Hospital on North ave. Interestingly, his father, Frank H. Burns, deceased, was Fire Chief in Grand Rapids, Michigan and served the Department 40 years.

Dr. Burns graduated in 1947 from Michigan State U. and moved to this area in 1949. He came to Lemon Grove in 1955. He is licensed to practice in California, Michigan and Alaska.

He has held all offices in the S.D. County Veterinary Medical Assn. and was president two terms; he is a delegate to the California Veterinary Medical Assn. currently, and is a committee member and a delegate from the California State Board of Examiners to the American Veterinary Medical Assn. He was a member of the California State Board of Examiners 1965-69 and president of the Board in 1968.

In Lemon Grove he has been active in the Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, PTA (life member), St. John of the Cross Parents Guild, the Kiwanis Club, Swimming Pool Assn. (president) L.G. Recreation Commission, was runner up in the Incorporation election (vice mayor) and was active on the Coordinating Council.

He is a past president of the Exchange club and has been active in the American Legion, Elks, Ancient Order of Hibernians and the S.D. Fish and Game Assn.

He will attend his first Fire District Board meeting as a director Monday.

Zebra Foal Born at Zoo

The San Diego Zoo's newest baby — a female zebra foal — met photographers for the first time, shielded by her protective mother.

The little filly, born Jan. 22, is a Grevy's zebra, one of three species of the zebra family. Grevy's zebras are the largest of the three kinds of zebras and are distinguished by their narrow stripes and large ears compared to other zebra species. At birth they weigh about 50 pounds.

The new arrival is the second Grevy's zebra born in the Zoo. The first birth occurred in September, 1971, and was the offspring of the same parents as the new foal. The latest birth brings the current total for the species at the Zoo to four.

The Zoo also exhibits the two other zebra species, the Hartmann's mountain zebra and the Damara zebra. Total population for all three species at the Zoo is 14.
